KOHALA AND HAMAKUA ACT

THEY PROTEST AGAINST HILO'S MADNESS.

The "Rainy City" Laying up Wrath for Herself Against the Day of Wrath. Sheriff Andrews.

KOHALA, January 1.—To say that Kohala people are indignant over the edict that has gone forth from Hilo is putting the feeling mildly. Sheriff Andrews having been delegated by the Honolulu Board of Health to establish all necessary regulations for quarantine for this island sends forth these decrees: No steamship or any other boat shall enter any port than Hilo; all mail, freight, etc., shall not be landed unless first fumigated under the supervision of the Board of Health of Hilo; all passengers who have certificates from the Honolulu Board of Health may be required to land on quarantine grounds of Coconut Island and submit to a strict quarantine at their own expense for eight days. We beg to know why mail and freight once fumigated in Honolulu and passengers just out of Honolulu quarantine must go through these processes again under Hilo supervision or if Hilo has any right to interfere with U. S. mails. It is also a little strange to us that in spite of these ironclad regulations 12,000 bags of rice were landed today at Hilo from the Kinu and that it has been impossible all day until this evening to have the privilege of speaking with any of the Hilo authorities over the telephone.

A large meeting was held at the court house today similar in purpose to one held in Hamakua yesterday. It was decided that a committee should meet the Kinu at Mahukona tomorrow demanding the landing of freight, mail and passengers, also appointed today will make an overland trip to Hilo demanding a modification of these regulations.

Hamakua has sent a protest to the Honolulu authorities. I have hardly described the indignation felt here at the injustice of Hilo's regulation. The "We are the people" spirit of Hilo is only distinguishing itself again, they say, and will only bring the usual census upon the town. Another correspondent in Kohala, writing under date of January 12, says: "In re the plague situation I would like to give you some facts from the portion of this island not included in, or represented by the district of Hilo."

"The S. S. Kinu came up on her regular trip and went first to Hilo where she was subjected to about every regulation and rule that the crazy authorities of that small town could devise, and these authorities not only acted for themselves, but for the rest of the island and Hamakua are perfectly willing to and as. The districts of Kohala and Hamakua are perfectly willing to receive any freight and passengers that the health authorities in Honolulu may see fit to send out, and this feeling was very plainly manifested in both districts at public meetings held yesterday, when the health authorities of Honolulu were upheld, and the Hilo authorities were condemned in no unmeasured terms. Simply, I should like much to have your people understand that the actions of the Hilo authorities are thoroughly repudiated and condemned by the people of Kohala and Hamakua districts, this expression having been made at public and very representative meetings which have been held in both districts. It is the town of Hilo against the rest of the island."

FLAMES AT WORK AGAIN

MORE PLAGUE BACILLI GO UP IN SMOKE.

A Dozen Buildings Near the Occidental Hotel Given to the Fire—Benefit to Near-by Property.

Another large fire was begun this morning by the fire department, destroyed the Union block, bounded by Alakea, Richard, Merchant and King streets. Everything in the block except the Occidental hotel is to go, making a dozen buildings consumed. The property condemned is valued at about $10,000.
The work of destruction was begun at 11 o'clock this morning. Three buildings occupying the space on Alakea street from the hotel to Merchant street were burned by noon, when the fire was put out for an hour. It was started again at 1 o'clock on the King street side of the hotel. The small brick building occupied by the Hawaiian Marble Works and the paint shop of Spanton & Rand was sent up in smoke in short order, the firemen keeping three streams constantly on the hotel building to prevent the flames from catching it. Windows in the upper story of the hotel were broken by the streams and the top story was flooded.

This afternoon the flames are eating away the rest of the block. The hotel has a space burned away all round it as all the other buildings to be burned are isolated from any others, the fire may go ahead rapidly without danger. The old free dispensary, the buildings of fire engine number one and a half a dozen cottages and Chinese stores are going. The fire building was the best in the lot. It is two stories, with a stable in the rear. This is one of the largest buildings yet destroyed by the fire department. The old bell was still hanging in the tower when the firemen went to work.

In the cottages and stores, nearly all the goods were left to the flames. The monuments of the Marine Works were disintegrated and moved away yesterday. In the Chinese restaurant on Merchant street, chairs, tables, pottery and some provisions were scattered about when the flames began to eat the structure away and the little Chinese soda water, tobacco and medicine shops were piled of cigars that went heavenwards with the buildings and all the bacilli therein. From the private homes furniture was nearly all taken, being well fumigated in the marble works building before removal.

Several white families were moved out of the block yesterday and furnished with quarters in Alex. Robinson's cottage in Printer's lane. Mr. and Mrs. Fummersfield and Mr. and Mrs. Bolt occupied houses in the burned district, and other white family was also moved out. The rest of the inhabitants of the block were natives, Chinese and Japanese.

The block, excepting the hotel and fire department buildings, was a row of shanties, opposite to a bit of the best street in town. Property owners on the other side will be benefited by the destruction of the dirty shacks, in which a lot of Chinese tailors, laundrymen, tobacco dealers, etc., were doing business. The value of the fire to the Occidental hotel will also be very great. In the improvement of the neighborhood when the flames die out finally the block will be a clear empty space throughout, but for the hotel building on the corner of King and Alakea.

The Union block was in charge of Harry Judd and A. F. Judd, Jr., as representatives of the Board of Health. They had charge of the people living in the buildings and appraised the property which it was thought necessary to destroy.

CASE AT THE ARLINGTON

JAPANESE SERVANT STRICKEN WITH PLAGUE.

Board of Health Moves Promptly and There Will be no Necessity of Quarantine—News of Today.

The immediate cause for the great alarm in town this morning was the case of plague that developed early in the yard of the Arlington hotel.
The patient is a Japanese woman, who has been attending to indoor work about the caravansary. Dr. Burgess was the woman's physician. At an early hour this morning he found that the case was suspicious and notified Mr. Krouse. The latter reported the matter at once to the Board of Health office and Dr. Howard was sent to investigate.

In the meanwhile Dr. Burgess had decided in his own mind that the case was one of plague. Dr. Howard, upon examination of the case, reached the same conclusion.
Guards were immediately placed around the hotel premises and a strict quarantine established. Many business men and others who were taking breakfast there were closed in. Seen about the matter this afternoon President Wood, of the Board of Health, gave out this statement:

"We are not alarmed about the Arlington. The Japanese woman taken with the plague lived in an isolated house on the grounds. This house is of brick with plastered walls and a cement floor and can be thoroughly fumigated. Every movement of the woman for the past several days has been traced, so that we are able to act intelligently in the matter.
"We will first of all attend to the house in which the woman lived. Then we will pay proper attention to parts of the hotel visited by her recently. Certain requirements have been made of the guests at the place, and when these are complied with the quarantine on the hotel will be raised. I think this will occur during the afternoon. For a week guests will be required to appear twice each day for examination.
"No, there is no idea of quarantining the whole block. There is in the first place no evidence of connection between the infected premises and other parts of the hotel, let alone between there and other portions of the block."

This case at the Arlington created more excitement than any that has yet appeared. Being in the middle of the business part of town and in a most conspicuous place it attracted extraordinary attention. Great credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Krouse that they insisted upon letting the facts be known at once.

MRS. BOARDMAN.
The case most talked about yesterday was that of Mrs. George E. Boardman, on Kinu near Kapiolani streets. Drs. Auger, Day and Herbert, as well as physicians of the Board, have watched this case since yesterday. There were symptoms of plague yesterday and a guard was placed about the premises.
This afternoon Mrs. Boardman is better. The swelling is perhaps more pronounced, but the temperature of the body is lower and she is more rational than yesterday.

The patient had been in charge of the art department in the store of E. W. Jordan, on Fort street. Investigation yesterday showed that a dead rat had been found in the department some days ago, and it was strongly alleged that Mrs. Boardman had removed it. This matter has not, however, been fully determined. One of the ladies in the store affirms that such was not the case. It is not a fact that the case has positively been adjudged plague. All the physicians agree that it is suspicious, but that is as far as the matter has now gone. Pending developments it can be regarded merely as suspicious and nothing more.

The fact remains that the lady is improving. It may be that her sound constitution, and some natural immunity possessed by her, have aided her in the matter. There is a report that the case is one of blood poisoning. This is a hopeful view, though it lacks official confirmation.
Jordan's store, M. R. Counter's jewelry shop and Mrs. Hanna's millinery have been closed. Some of the dry goods stores thought of closing this morning out of sympathy for Mr. Jordan, but decided later not to do so as such a course would not be understood by natives and some of the more ignorant people and might cause unnecessary alarm.

CASES YESTERDAY.
Inspectors found a sick Chinese woman last night near the corner of King and Kelaule streets. Her name is Wong She, aged 33. There were evidences of plague and all the persons living in the neighborhood were taken in charge. Today this case is said to be one of undoubted plague.

Kaohoi, the young driver of an odorless excavator wagon, who was taken ill in Kewalo some days ago, died yesterday at the pest house. The body was cremated at Maunaloa.
Kaneho, the soldier of the National Guard whose illness was reported about the middle of last week, also died at the pest house and his body was cremated. There was a doubt in some minds about this case but the bacteriological examination showed unmistakable evidences of the plague.

CASES SATURDAY.
The Chinaman, Ling Wing Sing, who died in a lane near Kaunakapili early Saturday afternoon had plague.
During Saturday afternoon a native man named Makuena died in a house out of sympathy for Mr. Jordan, but on Mr. Damon's place at Maunaloa. There were strong indications of plague and the bacteriological examinations showed unmistakable evidences of it. The body was cremated, and yesterday morning agents of the Board burned the premises and the house next door.
A Hawaiian girl named Kala, aged 13, died at the Pest premises in Kewalo Saturday night of plague. One of the

THE TOWN DISTRICTED.

The Board of Health this afternoon established a district system of inspection of the whole city, defining forty districts that include all the town from Moanalua to Waialae. The proposition was presented by a Citizens' Sanitary committee of ten members, which was appointed to go ahead with the arrangements for the districting. A call was at once made for volunteers and many people offered their services to the Citizens' Committee.

The districts are not to be separately quarantined. The inspectors will take a complete census and make examination of every house twice a day. No moving from one district will be allowed.

Upon his own responsibility the Minister of Education has closed all the schools in the district of Honolulu.

Liability to Scatter Infection—Its Dangers and the Remedy Pointed Out. Public Spirited Portuguese Active.

A. V. Peters, who with other well known members of the Portuguese colony, is using his best efforts to secure observance of strict hygiene and sanitary measures among the Portuguese, calls attention to the dangerous practice of many, especially children going about town gathering up wood, cast off clothing and other rubbish and carrying it to their homes.

"This is a matter that everybody sees or can see," said Mr. Peters, "children, boys and men and women among the natives and Portuguese especially. They go to rubbish heaps and gather up wood, old clothes and shoes, and sometimes potatoes, onions and other things of the sort. These are carried to their homes, and in the vegetable garden, this practice can only be described as 'scavenging,' and as there is no means of knowing where all these things come from, or what conditions of infection they may have been subjected to it seems a most dangerous practice, one more likely than almost any other to spread infection. Even if none of the things thus gathered should actually be infected, the practice is one incompatible with thorough cleanliness and hygienic and sanitary measures. It ought to be stopped. The health and police authorities ought to use all they can. Individuals ought to do their influence and efforts to stop it. Merchants and householders whose rubbish heaps are largely the source of this practice ought to prevent it by destroying their rubbish heaps."

Big Jim in Pilikia But Will Not Cry "Quits."

James Kupihie, "Big Jim," is believed to be the victim of the most effective kahuna that ever made incantations over a hair or a nail paring. Big Jim is suffering from an affection of the eyes which the oculist says is caused by the coal dust in the ships he has searched for stowaways. The condition of his eyes together with the dark glasses he is compelled to use render him almost blind. Getting up early in the morning before it was very light and in his almost blinded condition, he made a misstep in leaving the veranda of the house and fell to the ground injuring himself severely and putting his arm in a sling. As Jim is charged in the District Court with deserting his wife, his fall is attributed to the work of some kahuna employed on behalf of the wife. Jim stoutly challenges the kahunas to do their worst.

NEW FEDERAL ORDERS

THE QUARANTINE OF AUSTRALIA PASSENGERS.

The Rule Keeping Them at Home Is Withdrawn—Several Probably Cut From the List.

Consul-General Haywood and Dr. Carmichael, federal quarantine officer, received new instructions on the steamship Galleo regarding the course to be taken here in quarantine matters. The instructions adopted by the Consul's office was in general in line with the instructions received, but slight modifications were decided upon this morning, in view of the advice received. Hereafter the passengers booked for the Australia will not be required to keep in their homes.

"The news of the plague here is taken very quietly by the authorities on the mainland," said the Consul-General, "and in view of the instructions sent us, we thought it well to discontinue the order to keep people in their homes. The passengers who are booked will have to call upon Dr. Carmichael once every day for examination. If any district which we now regard as healthy should become infected, as is possibly the case now with the Arlington, we shall have to prevent those who have booked from such district from going. If the Arlington case is really plague, none of the people there can hold their bookings for the coast. Whether we shall also keep back people from houses near by, is to be decided after consultation with the Board of Health."

"If my personal wishes could be carried out, we should have a dozen steamers and allow all the people who are scared and who want to leave get away at once. People who become frightened only make matters worse. Many of this class are tourists, who are here with nothing to do but think about the plague and get frightened about it, and it would be really a good thing if they could be accommodated with passports."

The usual large crowd formed in line at Dr. Carmichael's office this morning. The doctor felt pulses and asked questions and one by one the prospective passengers hurried away, hoping that they would not find guards lingering round when they reached their homes. The list of nearly a hundred and fifty is already cut down several, unless the Arlington scare proves groundless.

SOME CHANGES.

L. A. Thurston is in charge of the work of placing guards around infected premises.
James A. Kennedy has taken Mr. Thurston's place at the Kaili detention camp.

GIVING GARBAGE AWAY.
It has been reported to the Board of Health that drivers of garbage wagons have been guilty of allowing natives and others to select bottles and other articles from the carts. The garbage did not come from Chinatown. Anyhow, the matter is regarded seriously and the Board would be obliged to have anyone noticing such proceedings report the matter at once to headquarters.

NO REGULATIONS.

A report gained currency this morning that Colonel Mills had offered the services of United States regulars at Camp McKinley for guard duty at the Pail and other outside points. "There is nothing in the story," answered Colonel Mills over the telephone. "My disposition would be favorable to rendering any assistance possible, but the law forbids. Our business here is to handle cases of violence, rebellions, riots and the like if necessary, but we are not permitted to take a hand in anything else."

A MIDNIGHT CALL.

Armed Natives Looking for Sailors. Seize Henry Brower.

Henry Brower, who is at present living in a cottage on John Emmeluth's place on Judd street, reports an experience that bears on its face an air of mystery and is at least disquieting. Early Sunday morning at 2 or 3 o'clock he was awakened by voices and coming to the door to see what it was he was seized by a band of five or six natives all armed who claimed to be looking for a couple of runaway sailors and insisted at first that he was one of them. They showed no warrant or other legal authorization, nor did they wear uniforms. They did their talking partly in English and partly in Hawaiian. After questioning him closely they finally released him and went away. A little later he heard loud and excited talking in the direction of some native houses not far away.

NEW ISLAND SCHOONER.

The schooner Alice Kimball, Captain Anderson, which arrived this morning from San Francisco, has been purchased by the Wilder Steamship Company for use in the island trade. The new vessel is about the size of the Golden Gate, owned by the same company. She was built recently and has a new coat of paint. The Alice Kimball made the trip from San Francisco in 22 days, bringing 300 tons of merchandise.

HEROIC MEASURE ADVISED

GENERAL EMBARGO AND GOOD CLEANING-UP.

Business to Stop for a Time and the Whole Population Devote Itself to Ending the Plague.

The Board of Health will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon to consider the matter of quarantining the whole city. There was a suggestion this morning to make this quarantine last until the time was not long enough, and that it should be kept up for ten days.

Merchants of the city are practically unanimous in favor of a general quarantine. In fact, leading business houses have today urged such a step upon the Board of Health. They feel that the most radical steps would be at once taken, no matter what the sacrifice or cost.

If such a quarantine is decided upon this afternoon it is certain that the Citizens' Guard, or militia, will be ordered out. Every member of the First regiment, N. G. H., will be taken into quarantine and there kept day and night. In other words there will be no such thing as attending to business during the day and standing guard at night.

The effect of the quarantine will be to place an embargo on public meetings of every sort and travel. It will be maintained from block to block, as in cholera times. Under the present suggestion business would suspend entirely, only the necessities of life being allowed to leave the groceries and markets.

This idea has been urged upon the Board of Health this morning by business men, physicians and others. What will be done can not now be foretold. There may be some modification of the general idea.

If the Board of Health wants more inspectors to volunteer it will have to provide homes for them to live in. said a well known citizen this morning, after expressing his readiness to help the Board if his services were wanted. "I am ready to do duty as an inspector or anything else, but I do not propose to go home every night after entering infected districts. The Board could get many men if it would insist that they have places to live in without exposing their families to the danger of contagion."

The same view is expressed by many people. It has been suggested that the Board secure some large building for the use of the men who volunteer.
